CompHealth VP, David Baldrige, Appointed President of National Association of Locum Tenens Organizations (NALTO)

TWO NEW BOARD MEMBERS ALSO ANNOUNCED

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (May 2, 2006)—The National Association of Locum Tenens Organizations (NALTO) announced today the appointment of David W. Baldrige, vice president, CompHealth physician staffing group, as its new president.

“It’s an honor to be selected as president of this organization. As president, my goals for NALTO are simple. I will work to expand on the progress that we’ve made, by continuing to work together to promote the industry and its high standards,” said Baldrige. “I look forward to the opportunities that lay ahead, and to playing a part in the continued growth of our industry.”

New board members announced at the meeting were Anne B. Anderson, executive vice president of Medical Doctor Associates, and Ruddy Polhill, III, CEO of HealthCare Partners, Inc. Outgoing president, Katie Abby, chief operating officer of VISTA Staffing Solutions, will continue to serve on the NALTO board of directors.

Formed in 2001, NALTO primarily serves to educate the healthcare industry on the benefits of locum tenens staffing and to establish a set of service standards among locum tenens companies. The association also provides a system for sharing resources among member organizations, offers a formal dispute resolution process through an arbitration committee, and aids all members in cultivating market growth. NALTO currently has 36 member companies.
