CHG Healthcare to Host Gov. Huntsman Press Conference Dec. 28
Governor to launch statewide public awareness campaign on Employment of People With Disabilities

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (December 27, 2006)—CHG Healthcare Services, one of the nation's oldest and largest healthcare staffing firms, is pleased to host Utah Gov. Jon Huntsman Jr. at its Salt Lake City headquarters December 28 as he launches a statewide public awareness campaign on Employment of People With Disabilities.

“CHG Healthcare is honored to support Gov. Huntsman in this important educational effort,” said company president and CEO Michael Weinholtz.

Representing the company alongside Mr. Weinholtz will be Ken Duke, manager, software engineer, who has worked at CHG Healthcare for 15 years. Duke is affected by retinitis pigmentosa (RP), which leads to progressive vision loss, and requires special equipment to perform his job including a larger monitor, voice recognition software and magnification software.

The media is invited to attend the press conference from 11–11:30 a.m. in the 1st Floor lobby of the CHG Healthcare's corporate office. The street address is 4021 South 700 East; (800) 453-3030 or (801) 264-6400 (located in the Woodlands Towers on 40th South and 7th East).
