CHG Healthcare Services Announces Green Initiative Plan

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (February 4, 2008) — CHG Healthcare Services, one of the oldest and largest healthcare staffing firms in the U.S., today announced a formal “green” initiative to become more environmentally conscious through awareness, commitment, strategy and action.

“At CHG, we believe that being environmentally friendly is part of being a good corporate citizen,” commented CHG president and CEO Mike Weinholtz. “Our green initiative is just the first step as we look to become a green-conscious company for years to come.”

As part of its green initiative, CHG has introduced a five-point plan that includes education, conservation, recycling, alternative transportation and community involvement. Its goals for 2008 are to start recycling programs for numerous items in all its offices, reduce the use of paper and plastic products throughout the company, and make carpooling a priority among employees.

To illustrate the benefits of being green, CHG will host a green fair for its employees on February 5. The goal of the fair is to bring awareness to issues involving the environment and then share solutions. Scheduled to join the festivities are Questar Gas, Menlove Toyota, UTA and many others. Members of the media are invited to attend the event February 5 from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. at 6440 South Millrock Dr. Salt Lake City, Utah 84121.
